d and o the Lie-

35. n to

with

rate. rdial

the

hich

rtain-

re-

n the s bu-

less

tions

f the

f my

and

gard,

the

rvice

eem,

Vew.

king

Vor-

hirly

ase,

she em-

the e of iro-

the

eath

ldier

Pul-

the

hom

as of tract

ir of

Apox Ne-ated -ma-good ould

PARIS, (ME.) THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 20, 1825.

[Number 68.

THE REFLECTOR.

PROM THE OLD COLONY MEMORIAL. " I pleasant thing it is to behold the light of the sun."-Solomon.

out regret view its total neglect on the hallowed spot where the Pilgrims first trod.—Whatever may be the opinions which some have great degree, to the diffusion of light and knowlence, and brotherly affections; it has cement- tain a cure. ed in bonds of ficandship, those who were before at variance; it has been instrumental in elevating the mind of the grovelling; in expanding the heart of the selfish, and infusing into the soul of the unprincipled and vicious, a motive of truth and virtue. Masonry comprehends within its circle every branch of useful knowledge and learning, and stamps an indelible vicinity, was distinguished in the wars of the mark of pre-eminence on its genuine professors, Commonwealth. It was attacked by Gen. Ludwhich neither chance, power, nor fortune, can low, and gallantly defended by Lord Muskery. bestow. When its rules are strictly observed, A superstition prevailed that the Castle could it is a sure foundation of tranquillity amidst the not be taken until a man-of-war should ride in the same crag of the rock, which was disdistinctly than Mary Conway, various disappointments of life; a friend that upon the Lake of Killarney. A large boat in will not deceive, but will comfort and assist, in the shape of a ship of war was accordingly prosperity and adversity; a blessing that will brought across the mountains from the ocean, remain with all times, circumstances, and places, and soon after the Castle was reduced, though and to which recourse may be had; when other not without a desperate conflict, attended with earthly comforts sink in disregard Masonry gives much bloodshed. We lingered about this ruin real and intrinsic excellency to man, and ren- until 9 o'clock in the evening, and in the enders him fit for the duties of society. It strength- thusiasm of the moment were not aware that the report, the eagle flew from the nest, and ans the mind against the storms of life, paves we had walked about eight Irish miles after the way to peace, and promotes domestic hap- dinner, until we had turned our backs upon the piness. It meliorates the temper, and improves scenery for the night, and commenced our rethe understanding; it is company in solitude, turn to the hotel. and gives vivacity, variety, and energy, to so- Yesterday morning we set out, on two ponies, to ridicule it? No: it has withstood the vio- the crags of the rock. eternal temple, not made with hands.

The Bible is an invaluable treasure; a volume more precious than rubies; the repository of all that can collighten the understanding, comfort the heart, and elevate the affections. It opens to us sources of pure and unalloyed M'Gilly Cuddy's Reeks and Purple Mountain are rubbish is scarcely less at present. The skulls in unpleasant meditations, and enveloping himfelicity, it is the rich fountain of faith, of hope, of charity, of every holy principle, and noble virtue. It gilds the dark vale of tears with beams of celestial peace, and sacred joy; it infuses into the bitter cup of adversity unut- opens on the view towards the south-west, Such a horrid scene appeared to us highly in- urged him to join the club: The temptation, terable consolation, and presents to the enrap- winding among the hills. It is a beautiful glen, decorous. The relics of the dead might at under the circumstances of the case was all good men to make their prayers in social meetdeath to all genuine devotion. Indeed, not uncommonly it is the offspring of death, as well They will then be edifying; all devout hearts may unite in them. If they are long, the speakor will probably be the only person in the company whose heart is engaged. Long prayers and long addresses answer no good purpose. Boston Recorder.

RECEIPT FOR CONTENTMENT.

may have cast a stumbling-block in the way of are more unhappy than myself. Thus I learn the Rev. Mr. Hyde. many, yet it is an undeniable truth that the in- where true happiness is placed; where all our From this rural retreat we hastened down stitution of Masonry, has contributed in a very earthly cares must end; and how very little the shore of the upper lake, and through the reason I have to complain or repine." Reader, straights connecting it with Turk, or the midledge. It has nided in the promotion of benevo- improve this receipt; and you too will ob- dle section, debarking at several points to take

THE REPOSITORY.

PROM THE NEW-YORK STATESMAN. LETTERS FROM EUROPE.

Killarney, 7th of July, 1825. Ross Castle, like many other places in this cial conversation. In youth, it governs the pas- for the head of the Lake, there to meet a boat sions, and employs usefully our most active which was to row up and take us home. The faculties; and in age, when sickness and dis- road leads by the ruin of Aghadoe, which is reease have benumbed the corporal system, it nowned in ecclesiastical history, and still gives yields a fund of comfort and satisfaction. These title to a catholic bishop. We also passed the ceed to advantage. A small cannon was next tender and susceptible, after the shield that proseparately, would be an endless labor; it may over which is a handsome stone bridge with be sufficient to observe, that he who cultivates numerous arches. Near this are Beaulort and this science, and acts agreeably to the charac- Dunloe Castle. In the course of the day we ter of a Mason, has within himself the spring received some fine fruit from the garden beand support of every social virtue; a subject longing to the former-a present from our felof contemplation, that enlarges the mind, and low-passengers in the coach from Cork. At a expands all its powers; a theme that is inex- little distance from this point is the celebrated haustable, ever new, and always interesting. pass of Dunloe, being a narrow and rugged devantages too great to be yielded to the idle sides of the way with the fragments. A little present so great a variety. clamor, or the senseless tales of presumptuous stream with several expansions, in the form of its pure and unadulterated principles, like gold Donloe, and were so terrified at the precipi- from the verdure of the ground and woods. mere mole hills, in comparison with Mount are by dozens, not to say by hundreds, so ar- self in the gloom, a bright light from the up-Washington.

to inhabit.

The boat next landed us near the base of one of the apartments, rising to the top of which no longer wooed him as zealously and of the lostiest hills, denominated Derry-Cunnity, the building and hanging over the walls. We powerfully as the ale-house club, of which he on the south shore of the upper lake. Along a each of us plucked a twig, as a slight memorial was very soon the centre and life.—The second or discovering impatience; how it was he could | cascade, whose murmur is sent back in echoes | to Ross Castle, where we landed, and returned thus be always easy and contented, under what- from the mountain, the visitant finds a neat gar- to the hotel at ten o'clock in the evening, faever scenes? The good man replied, "I can den and cottage suddenly bursting upon his view. tigued but highly gratified with the numerous teach you the secret with great facility: It consists in nothing more than making a right use roofed and thatched, with alcoves in front, de-While Masonny is spreading its influence over of my eyes. In whatever state I am, I first of fended from the beams of the sun by trees and this section of our country, and diffusing light all look up to heaven, and remember that my shrubbery. It is entirely surrounded by hedges and knowledge to its votaries, we cannot with- principal business is to get there. I then look of flowers. Roses and woodblnes, in full bloom, down upon earth, and call to mind how small actually peep in at the windows, and fill the air a space I shall occupy in it, when I come to be with fragrance. The grounds, garden and cotinterred. I then look abroad into the world, tage display more taste than I have discovered formed; and however the abuse of the order and observe what multitudes there are, who in the vicinity of Killarney. They belong to > parting views of the hills. Several bridges in Island, just at the entrance of Turk Lake, and that it seems to me a beholding Intelligence our guide conducted us to a cottage overhung from the court above, would bend a moment to and concealed by a delightful grove, where we contemplate and consider, before he flew to the dined on provisions brought from the hotel. eternal throne to enter the crime of idolatry Engle's Nest, the most rugged and finest peak that he had lost the recollection of his Creator of these mountains. It takes its name from an in gazing upon her. I look back through a mist aery of that noble bird, lodged for many years of years, but I see no object beyond it more tinctly seen by us, at the height of a thousand feet from the base. The boatmen related an and happily; in age and fortune, her partner anecdote, which not a little amused us. On the was entirely suitable for her; their minds too day previous, they had rowed Lord Ramsay, were similar, above the ordinary cast, firmly a young nobleman, to the same spot, and point- moulded, full of sensibility, delicacy and spirit. ed out the nest of the eagle. While he was And the morning of their matrimonial life wore standing gazing, and expressing his unbelief of was soon joined by her partner. In a transport it seemed doubly so to them; and lost in the of surprise and enthusiasm, his lordship exclaimed-" Upon my honor, there are the eagles now !"

> The echo at this and several other places, is uncommonly fine, almost equalling the miracle secure the peace and tranquillity they now enascribed to it, of replying to the interrogatory, joyed. Love does not burn always with the "How are you, Pat?"—"Well, I thank your brightness of its first light; but it often grows loaded and discharged twice. The paterara tected them from every unkind word or act has succeeded to admiration. Half a dozen reverbations from the remote parts of the mountain, at intervals sufficient to enable a person to at intervals sufficient to enable a person to was a prosperous one; and Henry was a man count them, were distinctly heard. It is said of business, industrious, attentive and intelli-

the White Hills of New-Hampshire. The forming the principal entrance, is a mass of the first concession, where both were plainly Saco is a much finer river, than the streamlet human bones, which at one time reached to the wrong? hurrying down the rocky Pass of Dunloe, second story of the building! and the pile of As Henry walked down the street engaged From the height of ground in this celebrat- At every step, we stumbled over fragments of notice; he stepped over; a party of gay young ed Gap, the sequestered vale of Comme Dull coffins, which strew the apartments of the ruin. men were about sitting down to supper; they ings as long as possible. They exhaust all the landing was upon Ronan's Island, situate in the to it; and persons are sometimes brought from ed our descent through the lakes. Our first dead, that the whole surrounding country flock brought up in of evil, had been broken. powers of attention in those who join with them, landing was upon roman's island, situate in the to it; and persons are sometimes brought from the control with them, midst of a group of four or five others, raising Cork, a dislance of forty-five miles, to be here with wine, and the recollection of his wife's be-A man asked a plous minister, who had strugamong the trees for some distance. On emergAbbey was completed, the boat arrived, and tyled through many difficulties without repining, ing from the woods, and close by a beautiful took us across the Lake and among the Islands,

now brooded over the fortunes of our young

FROM THE TRENTON EMPORIUM. THE FIRST ERROR.

Mary Conway was the flower of her father's family. She was young, and well do I remember that she was beautiful-most beautiful. There is no object beneath the sun-nothing in this wide world, full as it is of allurements, rich as it is in glorious promises, and golden hopes; and spirit-stirring dreams; that burns into the heart like the fresh vision of young augelic loveliness, in the hey-day of the passions. There is something so pure, and innocent, and holy, in ruins and covered with ivy, crossed our passage, enly in the soft and gentle smile that plays upon and added much to the picturesque beauty of her check and lips; so much etherial gracefulthe scenery. The boat landed us on Dinis ness in her form; so many attractions round her; Near this point, we passed close by the base of against her youthful worshipper, in the moment

> She married early in youth, advantageously, every prospect of a long, and delightful, and plenitude of their happiness, they forgot it had ever entered their minds, how much care and caution, what watchfulness and forbearance. what kindness and prudence were necessary to that sixteen have been counted in still weather. gent. Every one who spoke of them prophe-There is nothing peculiar in Turk Lake, sied that they would speedily realize a spienwhich washes the base of the mountain of the did independence. They were the pride of And why this coldness and neglect from the file in the mountains, just wide enough for a same name, except that it is the largest expanse the village. But how small a matter sometimes, spot which ought to be the corner-stone ?-- road, which was so rough that we were com- of unbroken water. It is however in all re- gives an unexpected direction to the fortunes Where the precepts of Masonry are not attend- pelled to dismount from our ponies and walk spects inferior to the crystal sheet of St. of kingdoms, cities and individuals. It haped to, the house of God will be deserted. And through. The hills rise almost perpendicularly George; and the scenery about the latter is pened one afternoon, several months after her can we see this institution which cannot be too on either hand, and immense masses of the rock equally beautiful with that of Killarney, with marriage, that Mary had a little tea-party, at highly esteemed, abandoned? Are not its ad- have crumbled from the cliffs, blocking up the the single exception, that the mountains do not which several matrons of the village were present, and as is often the case, a long and learn-As night was now fast approaching, we hur- ed dissertation on the matter of managing husignorance, and ungratified curiosity? Shall an lakes, passes through the gap. Goats and sheep ried across the dark and ruffled waters of the bands, had been given alternately by one and institution, which has existed for more than five were seen in some places among the rocks; Turk, and landing at its outlet, walked four Irish another; husbands and prudent wives know thousand years, and which has been approved and at one point, two sheep had imprudently miles through the grounds belonging to Mrs. what such amount to, and of how much value and admired by presidents, kings, princes, states- | descended upon a cliff from which they were | Herbert, for the purpose of viewing the ruins of they are to young housekeepers. Unfortunatemen, generals, clergymen, and thousands of unable to extricate themselves, and must soon Murcruss Abbey, which is the most celebrated by, Henry returned in the evening, fatigued and pious men of all denominations of Christians perish. Around the summit of the highest spot in this region. Its location is at the cast- weary, in both body and mind, with the labors upon earth, be sacrificed to the caprice of those, mountain, we saw a brace of eagles, soaring ern extremity of the lower lake. The ruinis en- of the day, and took his seat at the table. His who, through ignorance or ill will, are disposed and basking in the solar blaze. They build in tirely concealed from view, by the thick foliage favorite dish was not there. He inquired for of the aged trees which surround it. Even on it in a style that, perhaps, savored a little of * lence of opposition too long, for its votaries to | . In the exaggerated descriptions of the scene- | a near approach, the eye does not readily dis- reproach; it was unintentional. Mary was in entertain a doubt of its continuance, until the ry about these Lakes, it is stated among other cover it, as the dilapidated and desolate walls the presence of her self-constituted preceptors; general conflagration of this globe. Then shall things, that persons have entered the Gap of are mantled with ivy, scarcely distinguishable she was ashamed to appear too submissive before them, and besides, her feelings were woundwell refined, shine with dazzling lustre, in the ces over them, as to retreat without venturing A feeling of awe is felt on entering the clois- ed by her husband's manner; she replied, as she through. They must have had weak nerves, ters of this venerable pile. It was near sunset thought, spiritedly; but it was really harsh, if there be the least foundation for the report. by the time we had reached it. The Heron Henry cast a single glance across the table, We experienced nothing like terror. The from the lake was whistling and croaking among pushed back his plate and rising, left the room. scene is grand, but cannot be considered awful. the branches of the trees, where it builds its It was the first error. They were both sensi-in sublimity, it is far inferior to the Notch in nest. At the right hand of the tottering arch, ble of it in a moment: but who should make ranged as to stare the visitant full in the face, per windows of the village Inn, attracted his tured vision of the poor and friendless sufferer, the radiant mansions of immortal fruition.

LONG PRAYERS.

Winding among the miss. It is a deadthal gien, decotous. The renes of the dead might at tured vision of the poor and friendless sufferer, the radiant mansions of immortal fruition.

This Abbey was a Friary, founded in the large and castle, belonging to Lord Brandon. Sixth or seventh century, and has ever since the renes of the dead might at powerful. Supper over, he delayed a little longer, and a little longer and a little longer. It seems to be a settled principle with some a most fatiguing walk over a pathway impassa- used. So strong is the attachment to the con- without abhorrence; the dread he had been seemed their provers in available to our ponies, we embarked and commenc- secrated ground, as a place for depositing the without abhorrence; the dread he had been broken a long time before they come to a conclusion, midst of a group of four or five officers, ruising to interred. The O'Donohoe family have a tomb haviour before him, he found her retired, and their verdant and wood-crowned summits to interred. The O'Donohoe family have a tomb haviour before him, he found her retired, and the mornthe height of fifteen or twenty feet above the in a conspicuous part of the shattered building, passed the night in another room. The morntranquil surface of the water. We climbed to around which are grouped the graves of the ing brought a cool meeting; the formal interthe top of Ronan's, whence a fine panoramic principal chieftains, renowned in war, or emi- change of a few words, and a parting without as the parent of it. In all social meetings, view of the mountains and lake is obtained. On nent for piety. We penetrated every cloister, explanation or complaint. The seed of disconthe border of the isle under a cliff, stand the ruins of a cottage, the site of which is not inferior to that described by St. Pierre, and which a Paul and Virginia might not have disdained a Paul and Virginia might not have disdained and attractive, is a foot and a half in diameter, and its branches and he left the fireside of his own mansion, in poverty and obscurity. Thus fatal in its direct and natural consequences was an error; a single error; the offspring rather of accident

FROM THE LONDON NEW TIMES. LETTERS FROM NAPLES.

Extract of a letter dated Naples, March, 1825.

arena of which gladiators or condemned criminals among you. combatted with wild beasts; the places of confinement for each are yet evident, opening into the Circus; at the view and recollection, I felt an involunta-

one as that of Cicero, but I rather doubted the correctness of our Cicerone. I descended into the ruins dence of priestly religion: of Herculaneum with a guide and torches.-The theatre must have been of an immense size, for the in perforating the lava, to sink a well.

Some of the finest pieces of sculpture have been collection of antiquities, statues, equestrian and pedestrian, in marble and in bronze, and busts of the most exquisite workmanskip. Amongst them is a Hercules of gigantic bulk. I passed a forenoon in They are both passed. Let those who of exercise—The Spaniards have collected no troops are of my opinion rise. Immediately two-but for the Ferrol expedition—and the English sta-There were crowds of strangers from various coun- tion. tries, but the proportion of English the greatest.

so; and certainly, from his very useful interposition and services on various occasions, he merits the highest reverence and religious honors. In this cathedral is a painting, representing the Saint descending with a host of angelic warriers from Heaven in chariots putting to route and utter dismay the Turks, when tial costume, and that of the turbanned Mahometans, stellation Taurus with it, but such we believe is not same brief space, there has been exported from Lon- gone into his wife; that he had no intention of killing form a singular contrast.

He added that the church preserve a portion of his any accurate series of observations being made, but a guinea was in 1912. As any ground series of age, were the parents of four children, blood, which, once a year, on a certain day, miracuse enough has been determined to develop the most will come the paper meney, and up will go the priseven years of age, were the parents of four children, less of agricultural produce, to the ruin of the manuse were possessed of a competency, and had lived in units sacred deposit a lambent flame, to the astonishment. It is without doubt the same which was observed and delight of true believers. by the Marseilles astronomer on the 26th July last, at interred houses, neat and elegant as they nearly all tion with the Earth and Sun, [which took place severale. At the threshold is prettily delineated, in .mo-saic, the figure of a house dog, on guard, with the S. W. direction.

Naples, July 29, 1825. Recent excavations at Pompeii have brought to

words "care canem" (beware of the dog) under it. Another beautiful piece of mosaic, representing a fearth, that in 1810 it appeared tolerably bright, and a smale performing on the Tibia, an old man producing inucleus was several times observed, but no appearance to tragic masks, and two acture preparing to play. the tragic masks, and two actors preparing to play, ance of a tail. In 180. it appeared as a star of the The best of the painting on the walls is a little composition of a poet, or actor, reciting, from a manuin diameter, not well defined, without any tail or nuposition of a poet, or actor, reciting, from a manuscript, to an attentive and lovely audience of three cleus. females. In a bed-chamber is depicted one of those gross scenes to frequently met with in the decorations of Pompeii and Herculaneum.

In the public bath every thing is complete; it looks as if it had been abandoned but the other day. There are the four chambers as required by the ancient Romans in these establishments; the hypocausium, or furnace, the warm bath, the cold bath, and the va-por bath, besides the room, which served as a wardrobe, the lobby for leiterers, or such as expected their turn to bathe, and the portico for walking in. These Bainturia, are highly ornamented in all their parts, even within the turnace room: the ceilings and walls are covered with beautiful stucco work, and the floors are inlaid with marble of different colors and mosnic pictures. The roof of the chamber of the cold bath is a dome with an aperture in its centre to admit eye-and from its situation, the train or tail sight the bath is beneath the level of the pave- cannot be easily discerned.

ment; it is about twenty feet square and lined with couple. It gathered blackness until percepti- white marble. In the chamber of the warm bath is ble to every eye; and when it burst carried a white marble conca, round the brim of which are ruin and desolation with it. Driven to the danthe donor, and the sum it costs him: and in the vagerous company of dissipated, fashionable men, por bath are some long bronze stools with similar in-Henry contracted all their habits; he became scriptions. A large bronze brasier stands in the loba drunkard and a gambler. The domestic cir- by, just as it did when the ancient inhabitants of erpool, whence she sailed on the 28th August, the cle was descrted, and its obligations forgotten. Pompeii, frequenting the baths, warmed themselves following items of intelligence were received: over its charcoal fire.

Several strigites, (a rough sort of flesh brush, used ness with reproaches and bitterness; they both by the ancients after the bath,) were picked up, and now enrich the collection of the Royal Museum, casioned loud, and long, and violent collisions; which almost receives a daily tribute from these cu-

> The baths correspond in size rather to the smallness of the private houses than to the magnitude of Mount Vesuvius, and laid open by excavations, now stands exposed to view, at least a considerable part of it. There are perfect streets paved with lava, worn into ruts by the wheels of the ancient carriages. On each side are footways—houses and shops in uninformated succession the walls of many of the restance of the restance of wait-and removed to the aluseum of Portice, built on the ruins of Herculaneum, where they are exposed to riew; but which, at present, I shall decline attempting to describe, although the examintion afforded me much gratification. They are considered inestimable.

At Pompeii are yet to be seen, in a most dilipidated seed to the Pontheon, the Pantheon, the Pantheon and the taste and talents to one of the Greek squadrons, which cruise of the Greek squadrons, which cruise of the may have a beneficial induced upon it. He has southern shores of the Morea. The Turkish ships this afflicting visutation of Providence. Negro houses and grounds laid waste, plantain walks ruined, fruit and other trees destroyed, and the country round the large part large part of this development.

At Pompeii are yet to be seen, in a most dilipidated part of the Greek squadrons, which cruise of the Gown, are among the heavy calamities occasioned by southern shores of the Morea. The Turkish ships this afflicting visutation of Providence. Negro houses and grounds laid waste, plantain walks ruined, fruit and grounds laid waste, plantain walks ruined, ed state truly, the Pantheon, the Forum, temples to to the Duchess of Hamilton, and to some other Eng-caused the two Generals, Jussuf Pacha and Redschid gale. Indeed we may also add, that there is not an estate in the whole Island but what has had its plain-

We entered the house of Sallust the historian—were shown the vapor and other baths—and were conducted that they should each be fined through subterraneous vaults, where large jars, supshown the vapor and other baths—and were conducted through subterraneous vaults, where large jars, supposed for containing wines, were filled with ashes and encrusted with the sides of the vaults and each other.

On leaving the gate of Pompeii—for we entered at one and traversed this excavated City—we found ourselves among the tombs, and beheld the urns therein that received the ashes of the dead. We were shown to demanded that they should each be fined seige to Missolonghi."

Spain.—The Moniteur of August 24th contains a court did not impose the penalty, but directed long decree of King Ferdinand, suppressing all the military and permanent Executive Commissions which were established in all the capital towns of the Kingselves among the tombs, and beheld the urns therein day, were relieved of the costs.

The converse of the dead of the contains a court did not impose the penalty, but directed that the criminals should pay the costs of the military and permanent Executive Commissions which were established in all the capital towns of the Kingselves among the tombs, and beheld the urns therein day, were relieved of the costs.

The converse of the dead of the contains a court did not impose the penalty, but directed long decree of King Ferdinand, suppressing all the military and permanent Executive Commissions which with wine, brands and oil, captured off the coast of dom, and the Belearic Islands, by the decree of Jan.

The converse of the were filled with ashes and down the distinguished himself in dis-

On Sunday the 12th of June, 1825, M. B. cuorchestra is 110 feet wide—more than that of the rate of the commune of Blois, department of funds, endeavor to circulate false news. For some charged with despatches for Porto Cabello, and was Grand Opera House (St. Carlos) here. Great part of Loir-et-Cher, after having merely read the pas-days they proclaimed that French troops were about out during the late gale." the excavations have been filled up to support the toral letter of the Bishop, which prescribed to enter Spain. The Journal des Debats gives out "Martinique also has had its share of the calamity, town of Portice, which, as just mentioned, is built on prayers of thanksgiving on account of the cortain and which engulphed Herculaneum, and which onation of his Marcety Charles Y addressed his the lava which engulphed Herculaneum, and which onation of his Majesty Charles X. addressed his __that England is strengthening herself on the Tagus proportion." parishioners as follows :-

transported from the ruins of these ancient cities to not a Christian; us he wishes to support the have no regard to truth—what they desire is war the Neapolitian Museum, which form a most superb charter, which is a law contrary to religion, somewhere, but we can assure their readers, that the collection of antiquities, statues, equestrian and near the collection of antiquities and the collection of antiquities are the collection of antiquities and the collection of antiquities are the collection of antiquities.

viewing them. The galleries of paintings and the li- are of my opinion rise." Immediately two- but for the Ferrol expedition—and the English sta- her. He went to his barn, and removed part of the brary, where are preserved several Greek manu- thirds of the congregation, amounting to two or to the congregation on the Tagus has not been reinforced—Eloit.

On the 20th and 30th of July Madrid was visited. scripts recorded, scorched almost to tinder, yet legitle. three hundred, rose to signify their approba-

I* Because it tolerates the protestants of every sect.

From the Charleston Courier. THE NEW COMET.

The expectation of Encke's comet about this time they, at a distant day, assaulted Naples. The celes- has led many to identify that new visible in the conthat time invisible to the naked eye, and consequently beyond the orbit of Jupiter.*

On the 18th September it was distinctly visible to light some of the most interesting objects hitherto the naked eye at Charleston; from which circum- quake which occurred in that city. On the 29th July, discovered in that extraordinary place. They are stance we would infer that it had then passed within at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the earth sunk in and Chief Justice Hosuen, adjourned on Saturday a dwelling house which, from the nature of its paint. Jupiter's orbit. At both these times of observation it left a large opening in the district of Barlis, in Ger. Unter Justice riosker, adjourned on Saturday ings, &c. is called "La casa del poeta drammatico," was in Taurus, having moved only from the neck to many; it is 100 feet in diameter, and continues to last. John Niver, (the person who broke into a complete public bath; a marble statue, resembling the shoulder, crossing the ecliptic in about 60 or 61 enlarge. It cannot be seen how deep it is; but stones Mr. J. O. Pettibone's store a short time since.) the statues of Cicero; a large bronze equestrian stat- deg. of longitude; therefore it must have its ascendue, supposed to be of the emperor Nero; and sun- ing node near that point. We also discover from a minute, and some sounds as if they had fallen into tion to Murder, and sentenced to ten years independent and sun- ing node near that point. We also discover from a minute, and some sounds as if they had fallen into tion to Murder, and sentenced to ten years independent in Newgate: He plead guilty to an The "casa poeta," in its commodious distribution, of the ecliptic, does not vary materially from 48 deg. in the elegance of its decorations, and in its neat finish throughout, is perhaps superior to any of the dis- contrary to the order of the signs. After its conjunc-

is inserted in another part of the marble pavement, fourth magnitude with a nucleus and very faint tail

These observations are given to show the dissimilarity between the two; for we all know that the erations of this assembly shall have no efficacy until since, as a young man was at work, cutting cornnew one, has a tail extending five or six degrees, if the installation of the new Congress of Peru the next stalks, in the North Mendow, he picked up a not more. But this is not the only discordance; year—that in the mean time the four provinces shall line colton ruffled shirt, the collar of which was now a subject to the immediate authority of the considerably sprinkled with blood. It was how-

*" Newton concludes, that when they disappear, they are much beyond the orbit of Jupiter," COMETS. The Nantucket Inquirer of the 10th bearing southerly at 10 P. M., and the other appears in the zenith at the same hour. The latter is scarcely distinguishable by the naked

FOREIGN.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

By the ship George Clinton, Capt. Lawson, which arrived at New-York, on Saturday 8th inst. from Liv-

the English are spoken of as having interferred bethe public buildings have been destroyed or materialtween the belligerents, and the conduct of our own ly injured. Whole families have perished. The numcountrymen described as having given great offence ber of victims to this awful catastrophe, amount to to the Turks, as will be seen from the following ex- more than 150 of every condition and color."

Constantinople, July 25. "The accounts from the Mores continue to be favorthe public edifices and the population of the city: able for the Porte. Ibrahim Pacha, whose attempt Basseterre. We have not experienced the sudden pending bolt of ruin was stayed, just above but every house of superior order had baths within its on the Mills at Napoli di Romania would probably transition from riches and ease to absolute want, nor own walls, and there were probably other public have succeeded, had not the English and French as- have we been deprived of the common comforts of this sisted the Greeks, had indeed retired to Tripolizza; life; and above all, we have not been afflicted with The improper conduct of the most of the visitors, but immediately after joined Hussein Bey, who land- the sight of dead bodies of our friends and relations, lyestate was found to be insolvent; his children to Pompeii, deserves severe reprobation; they are ea-| ed with reinforcements at Navarin. Whatever the ing buried and disfigured under the ruins of their Pompeii, deserves severe reprobation; they are ea-| ed with reinforcements at Navarin. Whatever the ing buried and disfigured under the ruins of their Pompeii, deserves severe reprobation; they are ea-| ed with reinforcements at Navarin. Whatever the ing buried and disfigured under the ruins of their power and the proper conduct of the most of the Grooks may say, it is most likely that once opulent houses. Thanks be unto Divine Proviger to carry away with them a piece of marble, or friends of the Greeks may say, it is most likely that once opulent houses. Thanks be unto Divine Proviand enchanting Mary Conway, ended her life tonics or mosaic, and to satisfy this puerile desire they he has since resumed offensive operations. Mean-dence for having preserved us from so many disasters, single error; the offspring rather of accident than intention. I leave the moral for others to trace out and apply.

single error; the offspring rather of accident stands commendate their visit to compensation for their losses, though the find process of nature, have been reserved so many controlled the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the defall process of nature, have been reserved so many controlled the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the defall process of nature, have been reserved so many controlled the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the defall process of nature, have been reserved so many controlled the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the defall process of nature, have been reserved so many controlled the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the defall process of nature, have been reserved so many controlled the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the defall process of nature, have been reserved so many controlled the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the defall process of nature, have been reserved so many controlled the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the defall process of nature, have been reserved so many controlled the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the defall process of nature, have been reserved so many controlled the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the defall process of nature, have been reserved so many controlled the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the led the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the led the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the led the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the led the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the led the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the led the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the led the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the led the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the led the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the led the Porte to make bitter complaints, through the led the Porte to make bitter complai the beautiful, stuccoes of the temple of Isis, and, in- not only encouraged the Greeks to defend themselves ferings." the beautiful, stuccoes of the temple of isis, and, in- not only encouraged the Greeks to defend themselves formes."

deed, of most of the remarkable edifices, are garbled on that occasion, but even distributed provisions over and defiled by such classic inscriptions as "Jos. among their troops. Unauthenticated reports even Brown, of London, March 12, 1824;" "Achilles Gros- made the citadel of Napoli di Romania to be formally information afford unto Bassetorre its first and slight proof of the jean, Paris;" "Nathaniel Rice, United States," &c. occupied by the English. These accounts give rise interest she takes in her misfortunes. May the offer-I have made an excursion to Pompeii. The ruins &c.; and it is to be expected that in a few years the to various reflections, and many persons begin to ings be multiplied in proportion to the need, and may of this Roman city, overwhelmed by eruptions from indefatigability of these barbarians will despoil this think that England will at length take an active the kind and compassionate, find in that universal saterrupted succession, the walls of many of them yet ornamented with paintings, in stucco, which, after a lapse of upwards of 1700 years, exhibit a freshness most surprising. On the walls of a temple to Venus, I remarkable of the prising. On the walls of a temple to Venus, I remarkable of the proach of the Ottoman fleet till it appeared off the course of the once celebrated Musico, has proach of the Ottoman fleet till it appeared off the course of the once celebrated Musico, has proach of the Ottoman fleet till it appeared off the course of the once celebrated Musico, has proach of the Ottoman fleet till it appeared off the course of the once celebrated Musico, has proach of the Ottoman fleet till it appeared off the course of the once celebrated Musico, has proach of the Ottoman fleet till it appeared off the course of the once celebrated Musico, has proach of the Ottoman fleet till it appeared off the course of the once celebrated Musico, has proach of the Ottoman fleet till it appeared off the course of the once celebrated Musico, has proach of the Ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the once celebrated Musico, has proach of the Ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the ottoman fleet till it appeared off the later of the o ed some figures in fresco, that at a distance, seemed almost to step. But the principal part of these paintings have, by an operation, been taken from the walls and removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the state, and it is hoped that his fine taste and talents to one of the Greek squadrons, which cruise off the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of Portice, built on the removed to the Museum of the Portice Portice Portice Portice Portice Portice Porti > conference in the Admiral's ship. This conference tain trees blown down. The Garrison at Prince Ru-Religious!—Four persons were lately brought the three Commanders in Chief then determined on King's Store Houses being unroofed. The ship Vabefore the Mayor of Ceret, in France, for eat- the new plan of offensive operations against the liant, Martin, laden with bricks, belonging to gov-

General Miranda, who distinguished himself in dis- commenced her voyage, consisted of 2 cwt. of bread, The Paris papers also give us the following evi- persing the troops of Riego, is appointed second in 50 lb. of pork, and 60 gallons of water only. She has command of the Island of Cuba.

and that such great preparations have for their object "My dear brethren, as Charles the 10th is the recognition of South America. These papers and-thirty hours, and destroyed the crops of grain The churches here are very grand; that dedicated his superiors.

The churches here are very grand; that dedicated his superiors.

The churches here are very grand; that dedicated his superiors.

The curate will be called to an account by and the fruit within a circle of seven leagues round consequence of receiving on his hands the saliva of a the capital. The damage is estimated at several rabid swine, and was for several months after in a dethe capital. The damage is estimated at several millions of reals, and wheat had in consequence ad- lirious state. Since that time he has been, till within vanced three or four reals per fanega.

The priest showed a tomb of most superb and rich workmanship, where repose the bones of this Saint. The late unfavorable state of the weather, and the sort superb and rich presence of the Moon, have contributed to prevent of a sovereign will soon be as great a curiosity as committed to York jail. Mr. and Mrs. Neal had been any accurate series of observations being made, but a guinea was in 1312. As the gold disappears, out married about seven years, were each about thirtyfacturer.

and Dutch to the 10th instant, bring a variety of deceased .- Port. Adv. miscellaneous intelligence. Under date of Hanover, August 10, we find an account of a remarkable earthbeing thrown in, a noise is heard after the lapse of was convicted of assault and battery with inten-

South AMERICA. The Peruvin Government have promulgated a decree ordering the confiscation of all be introduced. Also all resigle, with their cargoes, of possessing Counterfeit Bills, with intention in which Spanish merchandise may be found, four of passing the same, and was sentenced to two months after the date of the decree. General Boll-var, at Arequipa, May 16th, issued a decree, which is commented on in the Buenos Ayres Argus as a vio-libration of the Buenos Ayres Argus as a vioral Assembly of the Provinces shall meet conforma- alternoon. bly with the order of the Grand Marshal of Ayacucho, General Sucre, to express freely their wishes Encke's moves direct, this retrograde: the node of remain subject to the immediate authority of the considerably sprinkled with Lload. It was how-that the resolution of the cver, c tried home; and although the circum-Liberating Army—that the resolution of the congress of Peru of the 23d of February last, shall be stone excited some surprise, it soon was forfully carried into fully carried into effect—and that the Provinces of gotten. Last week, on Monday, one of the Upper Peru shall acknowledge no other centre of au-same family commenced gathering corn in the thority now, nor until the installation of the next Pe-same field, when he found there was such a inst. says, "there are now two visible—one ruvian Congress, than the Supreme Government of steach in one part of it, that it was impossible the Peruvian Republic .- Boston States.

GALE IN THE WEST INDIES.

Thristopher's Gazette of the 3d ult. from which they extract the following melancholy particulars of the effects of the late gale in that quarter, of which we have had already so many distressing accounts:

THE LATE GALE. At Basseterre, Gaudaloupe, the gale was terribly severe. " Of 900 houses in the town of Basseterre, scarcely 10 have been spared-3-5ths of the number have been completely thrown down, and the rest. In the article from Constantinople, the French and more or less damaged in the walls or the roofs. All more than 150 of every condition and color,"

At Grand-Terre it is stated in a paper—" We also suffered some losses, but slight in comparison with those which have afflicted, and will continue to afflict command of the Island of Cuba.

Suffered much in her rigging; the crew sickly and alour opposition Journals, mortified by the rise in the most exhausted from fatigue and privation. She is

DOMESTIC.

MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE.—On Tuesday morning 4th inst. a most afflictive event occurred at Eliot, about eight miles from Portland. Mr. RICHARD NEAL rose from his bed in pursuit of a cal, as he said, to kill On the 20th and 30th of July, Madrid was visited wife, whom he threw on the ground, and with an axe with a dreadful thunderstorm, which continued six-severed her head from her body. About 8 years ago Mr. Neal it is said was affected with hydrophobia in rabid swine, and was for several months after in a de a few days, in good health. For about a week before We have before noticed the continual exportation the fatal transaction, he was in a melancholy state of of the precious metals from the country. We hear that i mind, which was imputed to the operation of religious there has been exported to the continent, from the feelings. After having killed Mrs. Neal, he stated to port of Dover alone, very near 800,000l. in gold and his neighbors that the cat of which he was in pursuit silver, within the last three months! Within the was Lewitched, and that the witches had left her and don, the enormous sum of 2,630,000%. If this con-ther when he left the house; expressed his willinginterrupted harmony. Mrs. Neal was an amiable we-Hamburgh papers received on Friday, to the 12th, man, the daughter of Mr. Daniel Goodwin, of Elist, Harlford, (Conn.) Oct. 11. The Superior Court held in this City, by prisonment in Newgate: He plead guilty to an information for Burglary, and was also sentenc-Spanish property which may be introduced into that ed to a farther imprisonment of two years in country, whatever may be the flag under which it may, Said prison, John S. Sherman was convicted lent attack upon the rights of the four provinces of |-and in the evening of the same day, was lodg-Upper Peru. In this decree he orders that the Gene- ed in gaol for another offence, committed that Times.

for him to proceed-he therefore went in search of the cause, and to his surprise, he found, at a Capt. Green, of the schr. John F. Spence, arrived at Norfolk on Friday, from St. Barts, via Nevis, has up, a dead horse! The horse was white, and furnished the Editors of the Beacon, with the St. apparently had been a very fine one, and well shod all r which we strange he from the had evide spot, as th drawn th neck, Se could be some unw of an assa lars we a SWINDL

man, men

been brou mitted to He is said ed in Bos name of I from when vertiseme Rhode Isla which he public hor raise the washed and dollar -After a scrutinized the city, paying in from then and where soon after It is added ing in Ver longer, and ty. He w Supreme C Cambridge Chimes. was stolen dence, when Dollars, all with a Go A trunk co watches, a to David Co from his ca 1st inst. th Cortland v robbed, an estimated a RAPE. A

ter, was co body of a inmate of t he broke o

were two [He was Daniso Cliums, a bla Justices of the charge Mr. Nathar the room v bed, and ass by the crie to the room his hand o who was le girls were.-escaped; a found under from the ho on, but in trial in May Fine. The lic house in cupied by Coach Com the 10th in buildings.

saved.—Ib.
Fire at I
ult. the G

was consun on the roof.

Lt. Govern then on a varved.—Ib.
Fontune's cirl Advertige an account of it appears the had nothing the last Little the constitution. the constable delivered ov ward the vig ed him one ing the ticke others, which Lattery drew haliff drew prize, while the 25,000 w was pockete he left destit The Com. At unfold, and v But we confid > will not mak ily trick inde Maj. Elij: Jy in 1816. been arrest him by Mr. malicious p Maj. Goodri four hundre ty, and ha his conduct accepted th ing, within a holder of the generously so wronged from

check for one shod all round, with steel-pointed shoes, one of which was marked F. It must have been a strange horse, as there has been none missed from the neighborhood of this description; it had evidently been led there, and killed on the spot, as there was no track of its having been drawn there; there was a halter round its neck. Search was made, but nothing further could be discovered. It is to be feared that some unwary traveller has suffered by the hands of an assassin. The above are all the particulars we are able to collect at present,-1b.

ich wo

seterre,

umber

ie rest,

aterial-

e numount to

Ve also

n with

o aillict

audden

of this

d with

ons, ly-

of their

Provi-

sasters,

at Bas-

situa-

bring losses.

eir suf-

of the

a offer-

id may

ctions,

lugust,

state-

neigh-

ed dis-

t's and

royed,

tepriv-

blown

red by houses

round

rrough

stating

plain-

ce Ru-

rs and

ip Va-

i, will,

laden

oast of

, Cap-

n, mas-

ien sha

ind al-

red in

Eliot,

to kill

an axe

obia in within

before

tate of

ligions

ated to

iursnit

killing

rilling-

dingly

thicky-

ildren.

in un-

Elist,

urday

e into ince.)

inten-

rs im-

to an ntenc-

ers in ricted

ention

jumi.s

uilted

lodg-

d that reeks

corn-

1 Was

how rcum-

s for-

I the

n the

ich s

ssible

earch

at a icken

and

wel!

11.6.

Swindling. The last Concord Gazette & Yeoman, mentions that one Abiel W. Wilgish had been brought to that town, examined and committed to jail, on various charges of fraud, &c. He is said to be the personage who lately figurname of H. Clurry, at No. 70, Market-street, from whence he issued flaming placards and advertisements of chances in the Maryland and Rhode Island Grand State Lotteries; and with which he sent agents to all the neighboring in polishing a saw, in a Clapboard Machine, at Chepublic houses, and it is added, was enabled to nery's Mills in Livermore, had his arm brought in conraise the wind to the amount of several thousand dollars-(this we think is an exaggeration.) -After a short career, his bottom having been scrutinized by a regular Broker, he fled from the city, purchased a horse at Cambridgeport, (paying in his paper,) proceeded to Concord, and from thence to Stow, where he left his horse, and where it was found by its owner. He was soon after overtaken, and committed for trial. ty. He will probably take his trial before the duly considered .- Would it not be well for the Sol-Supreme Court which commenced a term in diers of the Revolution who reside in Maine, possess-Cambridge on Tuesday of last week .- B. Cent.

Chimes. On Thursday of last week a trunk was stolen from on board a vessel in Providence, which contained Thirty-five Hundred Dollars, all of Providence Eagle Bank, together with a Gold Watch, and a Pocket Book .watches, and other valuable articles, belonging | ed, the expense would be small; but we are inclinto David Gelston, Esq. of N. York, was stolen ed to think, were they to lay their case before our from his carriage a few days since. On the next Congress, in its proper light, it would be attend-1st inst. the store of Mr. Wm. W. Phelps, of ed to; and certainly this is as favorable an opportuni-Cortland village, (N. Y.) was broken open, ty as they could wish. The Soldiers of several States, robbed, and set on fire and consumed. Loss estimated at $3000.—Ib.

RAPE. At the late term of the Supreme Juter, was convicted of a rape, committed on the liberties and independence we now enjoy, and prize body of a female aged seventy-eight years! an so highly, will not fail for the want of a little exerhe broke open in the night, and in which there were two other aged females -Ib.

[He was sentenced to be Hung.]

DARING OUTRAGE. Last week one James Williams, a black, was examined before a beach of Justices of the Peace, in Plymouth, (Mass.) on the charge of having broken into the house of the water shall be let through the whole length of was unanimously expelled from said Lodge, for Society will move in procession to the Meeting-house, Mr. Nathanlel Bartlett, in that town, entering the Great Canal. Cannon, principally thirty-two immoral and unmasonic conduct. the room where two young females were in pounders, are to be placed at six or eight miles disbed, and assaulting one of them. Mr. B. awoke tance, from Buffalo to Albany; the first will be disby the cries for help of the females, proceeded charged the moment the water enters the lock, at to the room, passed a man at the door, and put his hand on the naked body of another man, who was leaning over the bed in which the girls were.—A scuffle ensued, in which the man escaped; and after search, the prisoner was found under a blacksmith's shop, about 60 yards from the house,-When found he had his clothes on, but in disorder. He was committed for! trial in May next.—Ib.

Fire. The stables attached to Clarke's public house in Providence, (one of which was occupied by the Boston and Providence Citizens' Coach Company,) were destroyed by fire on the 10th inst. with a number of contiguous outbuildings. The horses and carriages were all saved .- 1b.

Fire at Frederickton, (N. B.) On the 19th ult. the Government-House of Frederickton, vest they may reap from it .- Ohio is following the was consumed by fire. The fire commenced example of New-York, and is now actively engaged on the roof. The furniture, papers, &c. of the in making Canals which will, when completed, be of then on a visit to the State of Maine,) were FORTUNE'S LAST FROLIC. The New-York Commercirl Advertiser of Tuesday evening, 11th inst. gives an account of a very singular feolic of Dame Fortune. It appears that a person was prosecuted for debt who had nothing to pay the bill with but three tickets in the last Literature Lettery. These he tendered to the constable, but not being lawful tender, he refused the whole distance of the Canal will be but ninetythem. The tickets, however, were finally taken, and two miles; and the expense is estimated at only ninedelivered over to the creditor. The creditor to re- ly thousand dollars. It would be of incalculable benward the vigilance of the baliff for his success, offered him one of the tickets. But Mr. Nabem, not like ing the ticket offered him, wished to have one of the athers, which the creditor allowed him. When the Lattery drew it turned out that the ticket offered the haliff drew twenty-five thousand dollars, the highest prize, while the one he chose drew a blank. Thus the 25,000 which rightly belonged to the poor debtor, was pocketed by his niggardly and rich creditor, and he left destitute. We must quote the rest of the tale. The Com. Adv. says, "But the best of the tale is yet unfold, and will probably be so for a few days to come. But we confidently anticipate the pleasure of announcing, within a day or two, the agreeable fact, that the holder of the prize ticket, (we have his name,) has generously sent the poor man, whose fortune was thus wronged from him by the iron hand of the law, a check for one half the amount of the prize. The act will not make him ' poor' put it will make a poor family ' rich indeed.' "Boston States.

Maj. Elijah P. Goodrich, who figured so largely in 1816, in the Sham Robbery affair, has been arrested for damages recovered against him by Mr. E. Penrson, for false accusation and malicious prosecution, to the amount of $3000. Maj. Goodrich having satisfied Mr. Pearson that four hundred dollars was all he had ability to iv, and having acknowledged the baseness of his conduct and implored forgiveness, Mr. P. necepted the $400 and let the poor devil go.

THE OBSERVER.

PARIS, (ME.) THURSDAY, OCT. 20, 1825.

Count or Sessions .- This Count commenced its October Term in this village, on Tuesday of last week, and closed at noon, the day following. The Court was held by Justices Chase and Stowell, Justice Turner having resigned. There was but little business before the Court, and some of that could not be disposed of on account of the vacancy existing on the Bench.

Fines,-We have heard of considerable damage done by this destructive element, during a week or two past. In this and the neighboring towns, much timber, wood, fence, and other property has been deed in Boston as a Lottery Broker, under the stroyed. In the County of Penobscot, we learn, that many buildings have been burnt, and property to a large amount consumed.

> Accident .- A Mr. Elijah Walker, while engaged tact with some of the machinery, and was lacerated in a shocking manner; it has since been amputated.

Soldiers of the Revolution .- We learn from the Boston Centinel, that during the President's visit to that city, several of the "Old Soldiers" waited on him at his levee, at the Exchange, and informed him that they were deprived of the bounty of their coun-It is added, that he had followed a similar call. try, being unwilling to take the pauper oath. This ing in Vermont, where his career was much statement was made in writing; and the President longer, and his gains greater, than in this vicini- informed them, that their representation should be ing too much independence of mind to say they are paupers, to unite in petitioning Congress, at the approaching Session, for a revision of the Pension law, that they may participate in the bounty of their country? Let all such as live in a Congressional district, unite in a petition, and forward it by their respective A trunk containing $600 in gold coins, three Representatives. If their petition could not be granthave already united by States, in making a representation of this kind; and we hope the survivors in our State, who spent the prime of their life in that dicial Court in Worcester County, Horace Car- long and sangulary struggle, which established the inmate of the Alms-house in Brookfield; which tion, to put themselves in the way to obtain some little remuneration which Government may, at this time, be disposed to give them.

Something Grand.—The citizens of the City of Lodge, held at Mason's Hall, in Milburn, Me., New-York and others in that State, have made arrangements to celebrate the day in great style, when Buffalo, and as the report reaches the next, it discharges, and so in succession. When the one planted at Albany, is discharged, the order of firing will be mously expelled from said Lodge, for immoral reversed, making the line both ways rising seven hun- and unmasonic conduct. dred miles !! The different Mechanic Societies in the city, will appear in their several costumes; in short, no expense will be spared to make the day as splendid as possible. They can well afford to celebrate the day of which they may be proud. They gave their wealth to make the Canal; now the Canal will enrich them. They have not been whimpering to the Government of the United States, for assistance, as some others have, to make, what in comparison to theirs, would be a mere ditch of a few rods-no, they took hold of the grand project themselves; and now they are deserving of the rich harwealth and resources, beyond what we can at present

ANOTHER CANAL.—It is in contemplation to cut a Canal across the Florida Peninsula, thereby abridging the distance nearly eight hundred miles. The distance to be excavated is but about eighteen miles; and efit to vessels navigating the Florida coast and the Gulf of Mexico.

The Diffenence.-We can but observe the difa valuable, and ably conducted paper, published in Baston, say, they have received the first number of "The Phanix," a weekly paper, published in Chelmsford, and that "it would give them great pleasure to exchange." Thus Messrs. True & Green, the enterprising and liberal Editors and Proprietors of the Statesman, exchange their tri-weekly paper for a weekly one, without writing on the margin,-" pay the difference," as the Washington Editors generally

GENERAL WILKINSON.—It has been reported that this officer, who was engaged in the last war, and subsequently left the United States for Mexico, and has been absent several years, is now dead. The inform- on good terms. ation was first brought to New-Orleans.

THANKSutving .- Thursday the 24th of November. is appointed by the Governors of Connecticul and N. Hampshire, to be observed in their respective States, as a "day of public thanksgiving and praise."

ONE WAY TO GET MONEY .- The Editor of a Vermont paper says, that he received pay from Mr. MEECH, who was a candidate for Representative to Congress from that State, for supporting him. It seems the Editor acted fairly in one thing-he offered Mr. Swift, the opposing candidate, the same chance. Mr. PRENTISS thinks that the name of the Editor ought " to be struck from the roll of the Editorial corps without ceremony." We perfectly agree with him in that point, but suspect if that course When Dame Fortune will distribute her favors should be strictly pursued, the corps would be much reduced-in number, at least. .

A LARGE FAILURE.—It is stated that a house in Charleston, (S. C.) has failed in consequence of the late speculation in cotton; and that it is indebted to the Custom-House two hundred thousand dollars! and to the several Banks in that city, six hundred and fifty thousand dollars more!!

"A Honse, A Honse."-The celebrated Horse Eclipse, the famous racer, has been sold to a gentleman in New-York, for the snug little sum of ten thousand dollars !! The same gentleman has also bought the Virginia Horse HENRY, for three thousand dollars!

SOMETHING NEW AGAIN .- GOV. DESHA of Kenlucky, does not appear out unless armed. Not long since, he attended public worship on the Sabbath, with a huge pair of horse pistols, stuck in his belt-A sight that would make Yankees stare.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT Of Votes returned for Representative to Congress from Lincoln District.

Whole number of votes Necessary to make a choice 1123. Hon. Ebenezer Herrick had 1245, and is chosen. No returns were made from the towns of Boothbay nd Whitefield. EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

Nathaniel Mitchell, Esq. of Portland, one of the Managers of the Cumberland and Oxford Canal Lottery, in room of John Mahan, resigned. For the County of Cumberland. Robert D. Dunning, Brunswick, one of the Stand-ng Committee on Roads. For the County of Washington. Alexander Nichols, Steuben, Associate Justice of the Court of Sessions. For the County of Oxford.

Stephen Chase, Fryeburg; Chief Justice of the Court of Sessions. James Starr, Jun. Jay, Associate Justice of the Court of Sessions.

For the County of Somerset. Ephraim Getchell, Bloomfield, Associate Justice f the Court of Sessions.

For the County of Penobscot. Rufus Gilmore, Newburg, one of the Standing Committee on Roads.

We understand that the Council has adjourned to meet again on Tuesday the 29th of November next.

MASONIC NOTICE. At a Regular Communication of Somerset

Sept. 25th, A. L. 5825, Major Benjamin Adams, late of Norridgewock,

EBEN. H. NEIL, Sec'ry. At a Special Meeting of Somerset Lodge, held it Mason's Hall, in Milburn, Me.,

Aug. 30th, A. L. 5824, Elder John Wage, late of Milburn, was unani-

Per order, EBEN. H. NEIL, Sec'ry.

Married,

At the Friends' Meeting-house in Durham, on the 29th ult. Elijah and Reuben Cole, twin-brothers, of China, to Elizabeth and Mary Jones, twin-sisters, and daughters of Edward Jones of Brunswick, At Blackburn, (Eng.) John Clegg, aged 72, who has been blind for upwards of ten years, to Jane Ainsworth, (who is as deaf as a post,) aged 52 years. This is the fourth time the sprightly bridegroom has appeared at the altar of Hymen, and the bride's third engagement in connubial bliss .- Lirerpool pap.

Died.

In Bethel, on Saturday the 8th inst., Mr. Joseph Lt. Governor, (Sir Howard Douglas, who was essential advantage to the State; and increase its was a sharer in the toils of the Revolution. He was Quint, in the 80th year of his age.-The deceased present at the taking of Burgoyne, and many other Range, where Matallak's Brook, so called, intersects scenes of bloodshed. After the close of the Revolu- the said line; thence through a part of Township tion, he settled in the town of Sanford, (York County,) where he lived a kind neighbor, and affectionate father, until the fore part of this season, when he was | thence through a part of Township numbered Eight; taken sick while visiting his friends in Bethel, and af- thence to the north line of Andover; thence through ter a languishment of ninety days, gave up his im- a part of the town of Andover, along Black Brook, to mortal part to Him who gave it.

In Hopkinton, (N. H.) Mr. Pelatiah Cloment, aged the said County of Oxford.

In Notridgewock, Mr. Morialt Gould, a soldier of the revolution, aged 71. In Monmouth, on the 8th instant, Major Benjamin White, aged 65 years. He was buried with masonic

At his residence in Alton, (N. H.) Mr. John Drew, in the 85th year of his age.—" An honest man's the ference existing among men in certain transactions of noblest work of Gon."-For philanthropy, benevothe like kind. The Editors of the American Statesman, lence and hospitality, he was excelled by few-for intagrity, sincerity and honesty, by none. He was the fourth in lineal descent from William Drew, one of the first settlers of N. Hampshire; his age with those of his father and grand-father, count upwards of two hundred and sixty years.

BOOKS & STATIONARY.

CONSTANTLY on hand, and for sale at the Oxford Bookstore, SCHOOL BOOKS, of all kinds, used in this section of the State, which will be sold wholesale or retail, on the most favorable terms, for Casa,

CLASSICAL AND OTHER BOOKS

Social Libraries supplied as usual.

A. ble price will be given, if delivered at this Of-

Cumberland and Oxford Canal Lottery, Fifth Class.

> CTTHIS CLASS_CO WILL POSITIVELY DRAW ON SATURDAY

the 29th instant, as follows, viz:-

3000 Dollars!!! 1000 Dollars!! 400 Dollars! AND LOTS OF %100-%50-%20 and smaller sums.

OF For a Chance in her SMILES make immediate application to the OXFORD BOOKSTORE.

Price: Wholes $4,50-Quarters $1,25. Paris, Oct. 20.

CTCHEAP! CHEAP!!-THE subscriber has yet on hand a few GOODS-which he is selling off at very Reduced Prices. People in want of any articles will now find it for their interest to purchase-as he is about closing his business in ENGLISH & DOMESTIC GOODS. ASA BARTON, Agent.

European, India & American COODS.

GEORGE HILL, COURT-STREETPORTLAND,

TAS just received a large and extensive assortment of

Fall and Winter Goods. WVERY CHEAP FOR CASH. (1)

N. B.—Homespun Cloths taken in exchange for Goods. Oct. 13.-

NOTICE.

THE PROBATE COURT, this day to be holden, stands adjourned to Tuesday the first day of November next, at ten of the clock in the forenoon: All matters and things pending in said Court shall be continued, have day, and be heard on the day last aforesaid.

Per order of the Judge.

THOMAS WEBSTER, Register. Probale Office, Paris, Oct. 11, 1825.

Further Notice

OF THE TYROCINIC ADELPHI.

MEMBERS of the Tyrocinic Adelphi and others; are notified that the Anniversary of the Society which was to be celebrated on the 19th of October. current, is deferred till Wednesday, the 2d day of November next, on account of the failure of the expected Orator. At half past nine o'clock A. M. the in this vicinity, where an Oration will be pronounced by Brother SIMEON PERKINS, A. M. Preceptor of this Academy. Per order, LEANDER S. TRIPP, Secretary.

Hebron Academy, 8th Oct. 1825.

TEN DOLLARS REWARD.

OST in going from NATHANIEL SEGAR'S to JERE-MIAH ANDREWS', in Bethel, a Calf-skin POCKET BOOK-containing Seventy-two Dollars in Bank Bills, and two Notes of Hand, payable to the subscriber; Whoever will return the same, shall receive the above JOHN SEGAR. Bethel, Oct. 1st, 1825.

NOTICE.

LL persons who are indebted to the subscriber. are requested to make payment to Enocit Linconn, Esq., on or before the tenth day of October; or their Accounts will be sued without any further no-ALDEN FULLER.

Paris, Oct. 3, 1825. To the Honorable Justices of the Court of Sessions, next to be holden at Paris, in and for the County of Oxford, on the second Tuesday of October A. D. 1825.

HE subscriber respectfully represents, that it is of public convenience and necessity, that a County Road or Highway, be established from the southerly line of Township numbered Four in the First Lettered C. to the line of Andover North Surplus; thence through said Surplus, along Black Brook;

Wherefore your Petitioner prays that said Road may be established according to law, and that said Road, so far as it lays in said Andover Surplus and Township Lettered C., may be laid out and made at the expense of the proprietors of the same, and that an assessment may be made by your Honors, on their land, being unincorporated places, and also on Plantation numbered Eight, at so much per acre, as you may judge neccessary, and that all measures reuisite by law, may be adopted to effectuate this said

where it intersects the Cors Road, so called; all in

GEORGE F. RICHARDSON. Copy Attest, R. K. Goonenow, Clerk.

STATE OF MAINE.

oxfond, 88.

Court of Sessions, -October Term, A. D. 1525. On the foregoing Petition, Ondered, that the Petitioner give notice of the same, by serving on the Clerk of said town of Andover, a copy of said Petition, and of this Order of Court thereon, and also by good clean Rass, or Credit. Traders can be supplied causing a copy of said Petition and of this Order to with all Books wanted for Schools, on as good terms be published three weeks successively in the Eastern of said newspapers, and the service on the Clerk of said town of Andover, to be at least thirty days before the next term of this Court, which is to be holden at Paris, in and for said County of Oxford, on the third Tuesday of June next, to the end, that all per-WANTED, sons interested may appear at said Court, if they see fit, and shew cause, if they can, why the prayer of said Petition should not be granted.

Attest, R. K. GOODENOW, Clerk.

TOR THE OSSERVER.

THE GRAVE YARD.

Why loves my soul on yonder spot to dwell. Where sable stones, of death and sorrow tell? Why do I love to linger round the tomb, When ev'ning shrouds the earth in holy gloom? From yonder tombs no cheering voice I hear, But all is silent, desolute and drear: Silent, save when they echo to the tread Of some bereaved mourner of the dead, Who seeks, like me, her bursting heart's relief, In the sad luxury of private grief. Ah! in the bosom of that peaceful vale, Shelter'd by mountains from the stormy gale, Where spring her earli'st chaplet loves to weave, And earli'st on the wither'll flow'rs to breath-There lie the friends who once my cares beguil'd; Sigh'd, when I sigh'd, when I was happy, smil'd; Who strove to guide my feet in virtue's way, (In error's paths were ever prone to stray,) Rebuk'd in love, forgave my follies too; Forever faithful and forever true.

There—there lies one from earli'st childhood known,

Whose joys and sorrows ever were my own; With her I sported many a playful hour Refore we felt Affliction's deadly power; And when in riper years we tasted grief, We found in sympathy a sweet relief. Green be the sod that presses on thy head, Moist with the tears by faithful friendship shed: These eyes for thee, shall ne'er forget to weep 'Till death shall close them in eternal sleep. Sweetly thou sleep'st within thy narrow bed, Though cold the clods that pillow thy poor head. The howling tempests pass unheeded by-Thine eyes have ceas'd to weep, thy heart to sigh; Nor grief, nor passion, lurks within thy breast, To wound thy spirit or disturb thy rest.

The moon-beams rest upon thy verdant grave; The wild flow'rs gently o'er thy ashes wave; And the mild zephyrs seem to whisper round, "Peace-peace to her that sleeps beneath this mound.3

O! when shall I, from pain and sorrow free, Lay down my aching head and sleep like thee! When shall my spirit gain its wish'd release, And I be gather'd to my friends in peace!

Perhaps I'm doom'd for many years to mourn: Strangers, perhaps, will close my dying eyes, And watch my bosom heave its latest sigh; With tearless eye consign me to the dust, Nor raise a stone to mark my place of rest.

But oh! may pure RELIGION's hallow'd ray, Dispel the gloom that hovers o'er my way-Scatter the darkness of the vale of death, And cheer my spirit when I yield my breath: Then, though no friends should hover o'er my bed, And no fond breast sustain my aching head, Cheerful I'll bow when Heaven's high mandate's

And my rejoicing spirit mount to Heaven. THEODOSIA.

FOR THE OBSERVER.

I've watch'd till I am sick at heart. He promis'd me that he would come to-night. He said, (what need to promise,) ere the moon Had gain'd the summit of yon pine-topt hill He'd meet me at our Cottage : yet he comes not. Not a shadowy form has pass'd along, But I have watch'd with keenest interest; Not a footstep has broke the still of night, But it has sounded to my beating heart, And set the blood in motion on my cheeks. But all pass'd by, whistling their cheerful notes, As though in mockery of my sadness. He must be well, for Margaret saw him, As the sun went down, at Farmer Beekmans. He was not wont to keep his promise thus. Must I believe then what the world has told, That he is false and seeks another bride? Oh! there is more than madness in the thought! If there is treachery in a heart like his, Farewell to confidence on this side heaven. Did I but love him less I could endure it; But his bright image is so closely twin'd With ev'ry thought of happiness on earth, That they cannot be parted. In my dream's Fancy could paint no lovely scene of joy Where Henry stood not in the foreground. Did he know the pang his falsehood costs me-He shall not know-l'll school my pallid cheek; I'll teach my stoic eye that it shall tell No tale of my affection. Does he think That I should plead, and weep, and sigh, and beg, And try by any little, woman-arts, To shake his better purpose !- If he does, He little knows this proud-proud heart of mine. Methinks I could stand by and gaily smile To see him wed another. But well I feel "I would not be that light smile of happiness, Which plays on th' lip, and dances in the eye, And lightens to the heart; but such a one-Hark! there are foot teps coming-They have pass'd-Be still my beating heart.

The moon has climb'd above the tallest trees: It is a lovely evening. Many times We've set and watch'd that moon together; And he has told me of his cares and toils: Told me about his farm and cottage On the river's bank, where he hop'd to spend So many happy days, with joy and me. I, poor foolish maiden, in my fancy, Had trick'd it out another Paradise; And all my morning thought, and evening care Was how to furnish Henry's dwelling. I turn'd my spinning wheel early and late, And hoarded up my gains with a miser's care. Julia-Ann, they say, is rich. ——Well. She may bring him gold, and deck his rooms out Gayer by far than I could e'er have done. But one thing she cannot, I know, possess A more devoted heart, than this poor one That's breaking in my bosom.

Night wears on, and I must seek my pillow-Though not to sleep, I fear; much more to rest: But I will pray to heaven for for itude ;-Pray to my Heavenly Father to forgive My blind idolatry—And pray—yes—pray CRAZY JANE.

MISERIES OF HUMAN LIFE. To be intruded upon by visiters at unseasonable hours, and to have their visits protracted to unreasonable lengths.

To hear long, dull stories upon subjects which you know nothing of and care less. To hear the same story told ten times. To be interrupted in your business by persons asking impertinent questions. To have an imperlinent intruder present turned by dusk-crespus culum-To the Circus and Ireland, at The World turned upside down, when you wish to converse with a friend, or in the evening—people of all classes, colors in Bandy-legwalk, this first day of April.

Any other person, upon confidential subjects. and condition, sit together promiscuously—

MISCELLANY.

From the Boston Traveller. FROM THE DIARY OF

who called me with great vehemence in her of the ring—was about jumping down to obtain another youngster has turned the crank. We sleep, and upon my answering that I would come one, but the rascally "Hannimals" and "Orseknow there are many very cynical, who are alas soon as I could put my clothes on, locked men" went round so fast that I could not find a ways talking about the degeneracy of modern her door and pretended to be frightened half chance—came home full of the feats of the taste and customs, and laughing at the Lauther to death; once by a drunken fellow of a waiter, Greek—endeavored to imitate him—began first Straps and Busks of their own sex, but forget Mail Coach;" once by some cats, who serenad- and nearly cut my thumb off-then put a cana- the neck for the purpose of giving them a music" under my window—noctu alicujus ostium shoot it with a lighted cracker, from my mouth, wear wigs as big as a bushel for the purpose of away, and letting me down upon the floor in word since. such a manner as to bruise my head in several places, besides bringing my landlord and half The following extracts, from an interesting historiof his family about my ears; and once by the cal work, published in New-Hampshire, by N. Adplaces, besides bringing my landlord and half intense agony of incubus, alias, night-mare, ams, Esq. will afford amusement to the reader.- in turtle-soup before an Alderman, panting to de- magistrates, formed an association for the purpose of your me; second, that I was a cask of Dupont's gunpowder, and that a rascally school-boy, with "n coal of fire in the tongs," was about to blow me "sky high;" and various other metamorphoses too terrible to mention.—Couple of eggs and a dish of coffee for breakfast—Delightful day to ambulate the city—Entered a barber's for a man to wear long hair, as also the comshop-tonstrina-waited until eleven gentlemen mendable custom generally, of all the godly of had been shaved, when the barber said, " Vell, our nation until these few years; we the magis-Massa, me guess dat your turn bekom nex," and forthwith began to fill my mouth and nostrils shewing of our own innocency in this behalf,) and hitherto unpublished. On a visit to a cerwith the same soap suds that he had just daubed do declare and manifest our dislike and detestaupon the faces of those who had preceded me-"Stop! stop! that won't do!" said l, "give me fresh soap, water, razor and brush." "Nar, Massa, me can no gib you dat-me hab no odder —beside me shav you vid all de ting dat me shav ebery body els, from de Mare to de gem-man shimly sweep."—Could make no reply, of course, to so overwhelming a response-consequently suffered the fellow to " new reap my chin"—had my coat brushed with a broom— therewith, that so, such as shall prove oostmate, and will not reform themselves, may have Gon and will not reform themselves, may have Gon ly, and ran against a young lady in muslin—she clasped me to save herself, and I clasped her for the same reason-accordingly we both fell into the gutter together-extricated ourselves ! as well as we could-she curtesied and went one way-I bowed and went another; not however without exciting considerable laughter among the bystanders, every one of whom I would have thrashed upon the spot, had I not been fearful of receiving a severe thrashing myself.-Entered a Circulating Library- Have you the Tales of the Crusaders ?" 'Not in, sir.' Segur's Campaign?' 'It's out, sir.' 'New Monthly?' 'Will be in to-morrow, sir.' 'Gayeties and Gravities?' 'Have only a single copy -will be returned on Saturday, sir.' Blackwood?' 'Don't take it, sir.' 'Harriet Wilson's head, conducting it to and from all places of Memoirs?' 'Had twenty copies-all out, sir.' North American? It's at the binder's.' Don who raised it to its present exalted situation. CENTRALLY situated in Turner Village, about one Quivote, in the original? Did'nt know it was That the loss in armice have been accordant. Quivote, in the original? Did'nt know it was That the legs in armies have been occasionally running through said Village and Twenty Mile Riverever translated, sir.' Boaden's Life of Kem- found a grand specific against gun-shot wounds, Together with an elegant two-story DWELLING ble? 'They say it's a stupid thing, sir—so bruises, dislocations, and even death itself, by HOUSE, WOOD HOUSE and one half of a langer of the British theatres than any other work in ty—witness a late commander, (who was carof the British theatres than any other work in the country, though, I added, and left the place in high dudgeon.—Purchased the opera above mentioned of a bookseller—passed down Cornhill, so called from the fact that before the revolution it was an immense hill of corn.—Lounged into an English goods store—'Any gloves?'

Men's or women's?'

Gentlemen's, to be the did on place of sate—with head to a place of sate—was the commander, (who was carchample, who, who, he chance, being the centre of the town, and situated near three Stores, Saw-mill, Grist-mill, Carding-nations in arms the example, by proving to them stand for a Trader or an Innholder. Purchasers would that the legs could do all this. That in many do well to call and see for themselves; and as the subscriber is about closing his business to remove from town, they may depend upon very fair terms and pay made casy. Those who calculate to purchasers with norters, rone-dancers, penny-post—chase, are wished to call before the first of October, sure'—Tried on a pair of white ones— These men, courtiers, and dancing masters. That, in as the property if not sold before that time, will to are too small.' They will stretch to your hand, fact, the legs have discovered, and are now ful-disposed of in a different manner. sir.'—Tried on a pair of black—these are ly convinced that they possess the understand-too large.' They will shrink to your hand, ing, and not the head, and that, therefore, the sir'—So bought them both, on account of their latter has lost all claim to particular notice, and LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the Protection. opposite properties—paid the shopman in sil-ver, and heard him say to his clerk, as I left the many benefits which they confer on the the door, 'That's the way to get the shiners, head, they conceive they ought no longer to my boy-always tuck it into the countrymen! submit to these base offices which are so uni--Old Market-house-Quere. Wonder if it is versally assigned them. That, it is a hardship, not so called in contrary-distinction to the new an injustice, and a degree of slavery incompatione at the south end of the town-Mem. To ble with the rights and privileges of free-born ask some one that knows.—Trod upon a peb- legs, daily to be obliged to wade through muck ble-stone, and was thrown down-men and boys and dirt, supporting the whole weight of the shouted-would have set my dog upon them head, who often sits up, in lazy state, curled, for their insolence, but on turning round to call bedizened, and bepowdered. That, the legs ford. him, remembered that I had left him at home are entitled to some nobler capacity, some more —Sign of the golden candlestick—very valua-ble article—Quere. Wonder if it is ever light-as the head, the pretended seat of intelligence, their opinions ought not only to be taken, and the lamp-lighter.—Back-street—remarkably nar-their will consulted, but all the arrears due to row—am shrewdly suspiscious that it owes its their birth and long services fully and completeappellation to the singular circumstance that if ly allowed. That, for this purpose, and availtwo vehicles enter at the opposite ends, at ing themselves of the present topsy-turvy disonce, one must back out before the other can position of the world, they demand, claim, and pass through-North Church-Quere. Wonder insist, that the present position of mankind, if the vane always points to the North pole .- which they have arrogantly enjoyed now near-Mem. To write a note of inquiry to the Warden ly six thousand years, be instantly shifted, and about it-Seven bells-reminded me of the that all men in future be obliged to stand upon seven dials, London-Returned to the Coach their heads instead of their legs; an elevation and Horses—no appetite for dinner—presume to which the legs conceive they have been tice, because I cat so hearty a luncheon—however, long since fully entitled by the laws of rotation, made out to get down my modicum of wine, and which they believe to be most likely to Quere. Wonder if this is not done in order to ridicule the aristocracy of the higher orders, and keep up a spirit of democracy among the railing against fashion, or its votaries; but plebians?—Alem. To inquire of the clown—merely to drop a word or two of advice, to our would also have this fellow recollect what Shakspeare says, "And let your clowns speak to be so outrageous against the modern customs TOM SHUTTLECOCK.

Friday, Sept. 16th.—Got up in high spirits the modern customs be of them some that will of themselves laugh this morning, having experienced a most somilarly to set on some quantity of barren spectators to laugh too?—verbum sapientibus—Observed to some voung spruce looking gentlemen with the modern customs of the younger community; but ask them to remember the days of their dandyism—their cocked hats,—their leather breeches,—and laugh too?—verbum sapientibus—Observed tons on their coat, as hig as a modern sized some young spruce looking gentlemen with the modern customs of the younger community; but ask them to remember the days of their dandyism—their to set on some quantity of barren spectators to laugh too?—verbum sapientibus—Observed to set on some quantity of barren spectators to laugh too?—verbum sapientibus—observed to set on some quantity of barren spectators to laugh too?—verbum sapientibus—observed tons on their coat, as hig as a modern sized tons on their coat, as hig as a modern sized tons on their coat, as hig as a modern sized tons on their coat, as hig as a modern sized tons on their coat, as hig as a modern sized tons on their coat, as hig as a modern sized tons on their coat, as hig as a modern sized tons on their coat, as hig as a modern sized tons on their coat, as high as a modern sized tons on their coat, as high as a modern sized tons on their coat, as high as a modern sized tons on their coat, as high as a modern sized tons on their coat, as high as a modern sized tons on their coat, as high as a modern sized tons on their coat, as high as a modern sized tons on their coat, as high as a modern sized tons on the coat and the coat as a modern sized tons of the coat as a modern sized tons of the coat and the coat as a modern sized tons of the coat as a modern sized tons of the coat as a modern sized to see the coat as a modern sized tons of or me quam solebat somnus complexus est, consid-some young spruce looking gentlemen with tea plate:—and some may remember, how hard ering that I did not retire until quite late in the canes in their hands—conjecture that they are it was when the fashion changed to get rid of evening, and was awakened from my slumbers Canaanites, lately from the land of Canaan—these durable small clothes; and after penderbut seven times from midnight to sunrise, viz. Horses kept sitting down and rolling about—ing well the best possible way of wearing them once by the young lady in the contiguous room, curious—observed several stars at the bottom out, have quietly sat upon a grindstone, while who came blundering into my chamber to in- with a dozen of plates-broke nine of them at they were once encased in stays that would quire if I rang for him; once by a stage-man, once, not being able to catch them after tossing have proved impenetrable to a nine pounder, who civilly begged my pardon, and "reckoned them in the air—then took the knives—seized —and as for the other sex, it is not more out of I was the gemman booked for the Worcester upon the blade of one, instead of the handle, the way to tie two or three cravats tight about ed or rather, entertained me with "nocturnal ry bird upon my head, and was taking aim to occertare; once by half a dozen watchmen, when the vile "India" exploded like a gun, giving them a look of gravity and wisdom. who were wrangling about some stolen proper- blew out two of my teeth, and tore my tongue ty in the street; once by my bedstead's giving and lips so dreadfully that I've not lisped a wherein I imagined, first, that I was a bowl of the year 1649, the Governor, Deputy Governor, and preventing the wearing of long hair, and the following was one of the articles which they signed:

OLDEN TIMES.

"Forasmuch, as the wearing of long hair, after the manner of ruffians and barbarous Indians, has begun to invade New-England, contrary to the rule of Gon's word, which says it is a shame trates who have subscribed this paper, (for the administrations, and to take care that the members of their respective churches be not defiled therewith, that so, such as shall prove obstinate, and man to witness against them.

" 1662, Sept. 25th. At a town meeting, ordered that a cage be made, or some other means invented by the Select men, to punish of Bonaparte, in 1814, it was observed at a such as sleep, or chew tobacco on the Lord's fashionable party in Paris, that things were to Day out of the meeting, in the time of public be restored to the same state in which they exercise."

smoke tobacco in the meeting-house, at any was no longer in the bloom of youth, " for ther public meeting, he shall pay a fine of five shil- I shall he only eighteen years of age." lings, for the use of the town."

An appeal from the Legs to the Head, for a more equal participation of rights and privileges: Shewern, That the legs have been always the ground with his eye-lids. of the utmost importance and utility to the business, profit and pleasure, and were the first half a bottle of Port—rode out of town in the afternoon—stopped at a farm-house under the produce that equality of representation which should always be preserved by members of the same body. Signed by, and in behalf of him-ogle a pretty girl sitting at the window—reself, and the Associated Legs of Great Britain for the Proprietors, at two dollars per annum, popular and the Associated Legs of Great Britain able semi-annually.

PASHION.

We do not take the pen, for the purpose of prominent eye, than for our grandlathers to . Nantucket Inquirer.

Varieties.

THE HONEST CONFESSION. It happened in a healthful year, (Which made provision very dear, And physic mighty cheap,) A doctor, sore oppress'd with want, On business turning out so scant, Was one day seen to weep. A neighbor askid him why so sad, And hoped no dangerous illness had To any friend befel. "O, Lord! you quite mistake the case!" Quoth Blister, " Sir, this racful face Is 'cause my friends are well."

ANECDOTE OF BURNS. The following unecdete of the Ayrshire Bard, is, we believe, genuine, tain seaport town in this country, Eurns eutertion against the wearing of such long hair, as ed into a warm discussion on religious topics against a thing uncivil and unmanly, whereby with a person named Andrew Turner, who was men do deform themselvs, and offend sober and famed for Deistical principles, and what John modest men, and do corrupt good manners. We Bunyan would have denominated an "ill fado therefore earnestly entreat all the elders of voured" countenance. The Poet was worsted this jurisdiction (as often as they shall see cause) in the argument, at which he felt nettled and to manifest their zeal against it, in their public | vented his spleen in the following impromptu:

It happened once upon a time, The de'il got stuff to make a swine, And laid it in a corner: But after that he chang'd his plan, An' made it something like a man. An' ca'd it Andnew Tonnen.

Old times back again.—After the abdication were previous to the revolution. " Oh! I am " 1672, March 12. Voted that if any shall delighted to hear that," exclaimed a lady who

> Some people being recounting several wonderful feats of horsemanship, an old soldier, who was present, said he had seen an English light-horseman, on full speed, pick a copper off

> > FOR SALE,

Men's or women's ? Gentlemen's, to be case with porters, rope-dancers, penny-pest-chase, are wished to call before the first of October,

Office at Paris, October 1st, 1825. Micah Allen. Sarah Buck-Robert Bearce, Greenwood.

Jonathan Cummings, 2— Clerk of the Circuit Court for the County of Oxf ad Hon. Court of Sessions-Next Court of Sessions. Jacob French. Rufus K. Goodenow, 4.

Sophia Harris-Joseph Herrick, Jr. Lemuel Jackson. Solomon Leonard-Joseph Lindsey-Joseph M. Ly-

Illiza Morse. Simcon Norris-Cyrus B. Norris, bulon K. Pratt-Renjamin Pratt. Nathaniel Russell-Uriah Ripley, Jr.-Eliphas Rieg Increase Robinson-William Ryerson, 4. Isaac Fturterant-William Steams-Joseph Swift-

Sally Starbard. Jacob Winslow-Esq. Walker. ASA BARTON, A.P. M.

MACHINE CARDS. Portland, has just received a consignment of Machine Cards, from the Manufactory of Horace Smith, Leicester, which will be warranted to give

Co-Orders for any quantity executed at short no-Portland, Feb. 15.——If SI

No paper discontinued, until all arrearages are paid. but at the option of the publisher.

VOLUME II.

THE EXTRA Pronounced by , before the F

Lodge, June To distinguis events which co and to commen sages, philosoph among all natio Whilst we conten are taught the hi upon us of cheris cating our nation to the recital of th taught to love o their virtues anic hearts, and we at

We are assem casion, to calebra burst into politica whose brow may victory, nor of an by the bays and l effer fulsome ince living great! Far es for which this nesembled, to ob Although he was want of all thing living Gon, the in sun of revelation patren and the pi august occasion, and as musons, figures, the sacred solves; let us stre and in one voice, preme Architect care over our desi The institution sideration, clother terest the profour man system. Th principles through motest point illum he leaves her beat of traditionary lorof Masonry will st may have called t cumstance of hun its infancy, or wha inception calculate or my purpose on awe which is she Masoury; its mod strate the purity o of its character. Where are the r the early glory on pies: Where are Where the tremen of Rome? In vain the tray Euphrates, to disco ly towers of Pat The torrent of aghave swept in obli der and glory of A sea" has illustrated and in the langu " rock where fishe plated for centurie principles—her mi masonic orgies. I god of mythology, Masonry has alone

The mighty Rom

the cliffs of our n promulgated the sa are now the attrib Her works stamp ; Rome; her achiev of history; her g scholar and the ani sance? Her seven spirit that ennobled power has been for been plucked of his dal have rioted in l ed the sanctuary of is reverberated no of Empires has over her desolution, and and political ruins, mighty revolutions. commemorate, whi Roman standard w petual beauty and r influence. I will ask for no august character of ed by these facts, a cavil. The mightid swept away in the lime institution of storms which "deso inbverted; politica to its centro; the r trated the sublimes proudest monumen wreck of empires, a rower, the humble a march steady, on 'In the mere sup language may appe thusiasm, or the ho but before it is de crepancy which exi cal institutions, and tem. We there shi problem presented l of masonry. The i upon transitory inte of individual ambit werve the purposes of therefore, neither the which the superstru and the edifico itself lubric of masonry st eternal virtue, and ity and philanthropy upices, the princip no revolution or pol the tuins of one em tel with frach impu!